REMARKS.

Our report shows the indebtedness of the town to be $1,127.63 more than for last year. We feel it only just at this time to present to the voters and tax payers, causes for which this excess accrued, The office of road commissioner has necessitated an extra expense for salary of $440.75 ; interest on notes in excess of last year $200.00, which accrued on account of money which had to be borrowed for highway expenses. In years past the road agents did not bring in bills until late in the season, while under the new system, the law directs the road commissioner to present his bills of highway expenditures for settlement at the end of each month.

The selectmen have caused an electric light to be placed on Parker street, and have paid for the same as by vote of the town, $100.00. The town made no appropriation for this outlay.

Paid labor and material for painting cemetery fence at south part of town, $97.09. Paid Messrs. Holland and Richards, damage on highway, $100.00. Paid labor and material for repairing water pipe at Evergreen cemetery, $122.00 ; this was occasioned by water freezing in, and bursting the pipe. There was no appropriations for any of the above items.

The expense for town paupers has exceeded the expenses of last year by $265.56, which is due to the fact that people were thrown out of work, and were obliged to call upon the overseers for aid, or starve. We believe it to be quite generally considered that the expense for the support of the poor for this year would greatly exceed the expense for the same of last year, on account of the dull times. The sum total for the above named expenditures is $1,325.80.

In making up our report we have varied somewhat from the former customs ; while we have given the total expense for town officers, sundries, interest on notes, and town hall expenses, we have included the same in the grand total for ordinary town charges. We consider it proper that they be reported as such.

Respectfully,

LEVI SABEN,

W. H. LYNDE,

C. E. SLATE,

Selectmen.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH.

To the honorable board of Selectmen of the town of Winchester:

GENTLEMEN,—We herewith have the honor to submit the report of the matters under our jurisdiction for the current year. We are glad to report an almost entire absence of contagious diseases throughout the term; only one case of measles, and a case of membranous croup having been brought to our notice during the year. We are glad that the people have coöperated so fully with the health officers, and that the general sanitary conditions throughout the town are very much improved over what they were a few years ago, and we hope the people will continue to exercise all possible means to make their surroundings as sanitary as possible.

The present sanitary arrangements at the high school house in the center village, which were put in, in spite of our protest, continue to be unsatisfactory. We believe that the sooner the vaults are entirely removed from the school building, and placed over the main sewer, in accordance with the original plan, the better it will be for all concerned.

We believe we fully recognize the difficulty which landlords often have in making their tenants do what they ought towards keeping the tenements they occupy in a proper sanitary condition, and if we have erred in the matter it has been on the side of leniency, but we have sometimes been compelled to use legal measures in order to bring the landlord to a proper understanding of his duty in the matter.

It has long been the custom with those who live on the bank or near the Ashuelot river, to make the stream a common receptacle for all manner of rubbish. This practice, when the population was not numerous, although reprehensible, was not so harmful as it is at the present time when the water of the river is more or less used for domestic and manufacturing purposes. The getting of the carcass of a cow out of the river, placed there by the owner, not with malicious intent, but because it seemed the easiest method of disposal, caused a good deal of trouble and expense, and lead us to speak of this matter more fully than heretofore. We have caused signs to be located at various points along the river bank within the limits of the village, forbidding the putting of garbage into the river. We are sorry to say that these signs have not always been respected; certain parties laying themselves liable to punishment for tearing down and destroying them.

Much of the garbage thrown in may not directly pollute the water, but it is unsightly when lying on the bank, and when floating in the stream serves to catch and hold all manner of decaying matter, which would otherwise sink to the bottom and pass away with the current. It would be much better if all combustible waste were burned, and all other placed where it could be buried out of sight.

Respectfully submitted,

G. W. PIERCE,

A. H. TAFT,

WILLIAM F. FLINT,

Board of Health.

REPORT OF THE LIBRARIAN OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

Six thousand seven hundred twenty-seven (6,727) volumes have been delivered to the public since last March, making an average of 585 volumes taken per month.

The whole number of cards issued from the library is 575. The number of new cards taken out during the past year is 149.

The patronage of the library and its influence is steadily increasing each year. Especially is this noticeable with the pupils of our high school, whose patronage is very much larger than that of two years ago.

The librarian would most strongly emphasize the pressing need of a new catalogue.

It will be remembered that no catalogue has been printed since 1885-6, and this is, today, the greatest need of our public library.

Respectfully submitted,

DORA E. SWAN,

Librarian.

REPORT OF THE TRUSTEES OF THE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The trustees of the public library, in making this their second annual report to the town, beg leave to call attention especially to the plea of the librarian for a new catalogue. This is an imperative need, not only for the convenience of the librarian but also of the reading public.

Winchester has an unusually good library for a town of its size, but as it is not classified it is difficult to know exactly what is in the library or what books are especially needed.

From the special appropriation of $200 we have expended during the year $44.36 for tables, etc., for one of the reading rooms. The remainder of the $200 was expended for the running expenses of the library. The expenses exceeded the appropriation by $19.19, which sum was taken from the ordinary appropriation (see treasurer's report).

There still remains for the completion of the library, mantles for the four fireplaces, and suitable water closet arrangements. When these are supplied the library will be completed, except for such slight wants as can be easily supplied from any reasonable annual appropriation.

Some very valuable books of reference have been added to the library during the year, as well as a number of volumes of fiction of a high order.

The librarian's report gives evidence of the increased interest felt in the library. The trustees can only emphasize the fact shown by the librarian that the library is a growing power in our community. A year ago the library received a fine portrait in oil of the late Marshall Jewell. Several articles have been donated during the past year. Among others, a portrait of Marshall Pratt, who was born in Winchester, September 25, 1799, and died August 27, 1827. He attained, for so brief a life, considerable note as a musician. The trustees would remind the friends of the library that there are ample accommodations for any articles of historic or intrinsic value which they may be desirous of donating to the library.

The trustees wish to impress upon the public the necessity of being as liberal in their appropriations for the year as heretofore, unless they are willing to see the usefulness of the library impaired.

GENERAL REMARKS.

In submitting our report of the schools of the town for the past year, we are able to state that they are generally in a satisfactory condition. The difficulty from which we have heretofore sometimes suffered, of frequent changes of teachers in our graded schools, has this year not occurred, the same well trained and experienced instructors having been retained through the year, the only exception being the change of assistant in the high school. For these difficult graded schools, two qualifications are necessary—the ability to properly govern them, and the faculty to impart instruction; and it will always be difficult to find any great number who possess these requisites. The methods and capacity of the teachers in these large graded schools seem to have improved from year to year. This is as it should be. Ambitious and progressive teachers are growing ones, and the schools will always feel the result of this growth.

While the condition of our village schools is most gratifying, the prospects for our mixed schools are not, as a rule, encouraging. With a slowly but constantly diminishing population, the number of scholars of course diminishes. Two factors operate to impair the efficiency of these outlying schools—their small size and the weak teachers who must necessarily be employed in them. Experienced teachers will not take such schools, and, if they did, the cost would be excessive. With diminished numbers there seems also to be an abatement of the interest in school work. There are the best of reasons for assuming that this interest is declining to some extent, at least, in all our schools. These reasons are based on the existence of a large non-attendance, particularly where a teacher is assumed to be more or less unpopular. The attendance, as a rule, indicates the interest of both parents and scholars. The attempt to consolidate schools, or even to transport scattered pupils to larger schools, has not been looked upon with favor. Formerly, when these educational advantages had to be struggled for, and when they cost something, they were prized. Now, with free text-books and the advantages of a higher education, all free, they seem to fail to be fully appreciated.

And here it seems to be appropriate to say a word in regard to the preparation of beginners in teaching. Candidates who have graduated, and candidates who have not graduated, present themselves for these small schools. A small percentage of these, after having had a little experience, and finding the work congenial, will further improve themselves by an attendance at some special or normal school, and become successful teachers. The larger part, unfortunately, will drift along with insufficient qualifications and perhaps with no adaptability for the work. This latter class are quite likely, after having taught one or two terms in a small school, to set about seeking a position in a graded school, when they have not and never will have the slightest capacity for their work. Too many parents entertain the idea that their children can teach. Two qualifications are indispensable for a successful teacher: thorough preparation and a natural ability to govern and to impart instruction.

We deem it our duty to again call the attention of the voters of town, to the universally recognized evils attending the present method of having a room outside of the schoolhouse for a recitation room for the high school. At the time of the adoption of this policy, the school was young, and weak in the favor of the people, and the schoolhouse not being owned by the town, there seemed to be no other way of getting the needed room but by renting private rooms.

About seven years ago, all the schoolhouses of the town, having by the adoption of the town system come into possession of the town district, the high school committee recognizing the poor economy of the system and the many obvious evils connected therewith, recommended in their annual report, that an addition be made to the school building, of a two-story wing on the east side, in accordance with plans and estimates submitted therewith by a citizen of recognized ability as a builder and contractor, which would furnish a recitation room of sufficient capacity, together with a room for a laboratory, both of which in the judgment of teachers and committee were much needed. The recommendation did not meet the approval of the voters assembled at the school meeting, and it might fairly be assumed of the much larger number, who did not take enough interest in the subject to attend and express their convictions for or against. The result was that those who have been entrusted with the management of the school have been deterred from making any farther effort to have the evil remedied, and have as cheerfully as possible struggled along in the old way, paying annually a sum much in excess of the interest on the estimated cost of the proposed extension, and feeling and knowing that in consequence of the short-sighted policy, the school was suffering a large waste of time, the discipline was sadly impaired, and the business of the street was enduring a needless nuisance.

There has recently been suggested a plan for a temporary and partial betterment of the situation by appropriating about one-third of the space of the grammar room and putting in a temporary partition, built in such a manner that it can be removed without detriment, if not proving satisfactory. The advantage of this plan is its cheapness, the estimated cost being less than fifty dollars. The objections are, that it will seriously impair the pleasantness and beauty of the grammar room, and cause some apparent crowding in both rooms. Another plan is, to finish a recitation room in the attic, which could be done suitably at a probable cost of five hundred dollars, or less. The third plan is the one before mentioned as having been once rejected, and which, under present conditions, could be accomplished at an estimated cost of about fifteen hundred dollars. The present school board are inclined to favor the first plan; not because they think it best, but, from past experience, they believe the most likely to afford prompt relief from a situation which has come to be almost insufferable.

The appropriations made last year have been found ample, in the aggregate, to continue the schools the desired length of terms. By reason of a mistake in our estimate of bills payable, made during the last term, we were induced to shorten the terms of the primary grades one week, and one or two others slightly, but find that we had ample funds for carrying out our original plans, and have an unusually large balance in the treasury. The appropriation for books and supplies proved a little small. As there is a falling off in the dog tax fund available for schools the coming year, we shall have to ask for slightly increased appropriations, in order to continue the schools the usual length of terms.

We would recommend appropriations to be raised by taxation the coming year, as follows:

For general appropriation,	$4,850 00
For books and supplies,	400 00
	$5,250 00
